Some Condo Conversion

Washington Park Complex Under New Ownership.

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It appears Andover may soon have some new condominiums for sale.

As many tenants have long feared, the Washington Park apartments on North Main Street have been sold, and at least some of the units will be converted into condominiums.

Cohen Properties of Brookline has bought the apartments from Melrand Properties, Inc. of Lexington. Papers were passed on June 19, according to Suzanne Messer of Cohen Properties.

The new owners have already begun renovating the buildings, located next to Shawsheen Plaza. Messer said yesterday that some of the rental units would be converted into condominiums.

But not all units will be converted: some will remain apartment units because they are the homes of elderly tenants, Messer said.

She indicated that tenants of the units to be converted have been notified.

A new condominium conversion bylaw approved by annual town meeting last month may offer some protection to the Washington Park residents, who turned out in full force at town meeting to make sure it passed.

The bylaw requires apartment owners to give tenants one year's notice before converting rental units into condominiums. And it requires owners to obtain a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals before converting units.

According to Town Counsel Alfred Daniels, that bylaw is now in effect, to the best of his knowledge. All town meeting actions become effective immediately unless they are struck down by the attorney general, and Daniels said he has not received any notice that the attorney general has disapproved the bylaw.

Prior to town meeting, town counsel indicated that the one-year notice provision of the bylaw may be struck down; Daniels believed that restriction was outside the town's powers.

Even without that restriction, however, the ZBA permit process would still take several weeks, allowing residents some time before they could be asked to leave their apartments.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has not yet

Plans Unveiled For Living Center At West Parish

West Parish Church unveiled its plans for a 22-acre retirement center off Reservation Road — "The Living Center" — to townspeople and town officials this week. Members of the TLC steering committee hope to present those plans to a special town meeting next fall — although at the moment they do not plan to petition for a special session themselves.

Steering committee members saw the preliminary plans for the first time Monday night, when architect Kent Brandt of the firm Brubaker/Brandt flew them in from Columbus, Ohio.

Robert Murtha of MacIntosh Associates of Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, the consulting firm that has helped plan the center for more than a year, was also on hand for a series of presentations to church members on Monday night, and local officials and townspeople on Tuesday.

The proposed $14 to $15 million retirement center is a "seven-year dream of West Parish Church people," a letter from the steering committee explains. Living units for the elderly at all levels of health — from those who can live alone to those who need constant nursing care — will be at the core of the center.

But it will also include a family resource center, a day care program, a hospice and an educational/research program coordinated with universities. "It would be a unique retirement center that would provide a richer environment for the residents — they would not be just with their elderly age group," steering committee member Elaine Viehmann explained.

Before the center can be built, town meeting must vote to rezone the Reservation Road parcel — which already belongs to the church — from a residential zone to "a new classification that would be spe-

Players To Appear At Festival

The Garrett Players will represent the United States at an international theater festival in Helsinki, Finland, in September. The local award-winning theater group was one of two winners at the National Festival of Community Theaters held in Kalamazoo, Michigan, June 12 through 14. Nine groups, each winners in their regional festivals from, as far away as Alaska and Wyoming, participated in the festival.

Andover residents involved in "Suicide In B Flat," the winning production, include Susan Lenoe, who is a cast member, and Mary Kate Small, who worked on the crew.

The play is directed by Warren Manzi, who is currently appearing on Broadway in the hit play, "Amadeus." Warren commutes from New York to Lawrence on weekends to direct the Garrett play.

Other members of the cast are Jay Stone, Andrew Wolfendon, Jean-Marie Baride, Joan McGinness, Thomas Vittorio and Jane Wiseman.

Providing technical help are Vita and Chris Rolison, Marilyn Wales, Gary Thomas Keating, Wayne J.C. Leocata, Joanne Lovecchio, Laurie Wood, William Callahan, Jeffrey Hyatt, Earl Eddy, Karen Wolfendon and Edna Smith.

The Garrett has recently opened in a dinner theater at Giordano's restaurant in Georgetown where they play every Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

ASAP Program Revamped

The Alcohol Safety Action Program (ASAP) of the Lawrence General Hospital (LGH) has revamped the format of its program, tightening the rules while providing clients with better continuity and the ability to move through the program faster.

ASAP provides counseling and educational programs for persons referred to it by the courts who have been arrested for driving while intoxicated. Persons not referred to the program or who prefer not to participate lose their drivers' licenses.

The LGH ASAP serves Lawrence District Court (covering Methuen, Andover, North Andover and Lawrence), Central District Court of North Essex in Haverhill, Newburyport District Court and the Second District Court of Essex in Amesbury. Court probation officers as well as the ASAP advisory board support the new program.

Under the new format, clients first will have one or two individual one-hour counseling sessions. During these sessions the individual will be assessed and assigned to one of five groups, depending on the extent of their alcohol-related problems, for classes. The client will then attend up to 16 two-hour class/discussion sessions. In the past, the client attended eight classes, then received counseling and was assigned another six group meetings. This format often spread the classes over a total of 20 or more weeks.

"A major advantage to clients, participating in ASAP with the new format, should be that they have the same counselor and peer group throughout. This should allow the momentum of the program to build, providing a continuity of learning and growth," explained Sherry Seidel, ASAP coordinator.

In the past clients were allowed to miss one class session. Under the new guidelines a client must prove the absence was due to an unavoidable emergency or be terminated. A client is also terminated who is intoxicated during an appointment or class. (Clients who are terminated go back to court and will probably lose their licenses.)

"These changes will make our ASAP program more stringent and thorough," Seidel commented. "We will continue to monitor the program and make adjustments as needed to best service our clients."

AAA Urges Summer Safety

With area schools closing for the summer, motorists need to be especially cautious as youngsters take to the outdoors for several months of fun in the sun.

Engrossed in play, vacationing students often forget their traffic safety rules—something drivers should keep in mind.

Mishaps can occur in a split second as children scurry from behind parked cars, dart across streets in pursuit of adventure or take to playing games in or near the streets.

AAA urges drivers to slow down especially during the first few days of summer vacation. Motorists should be extra careful when backing out of a driveway; no matter what time of day. Stop and look both ways before entering the traffic flow. A skater, bicyclist or young pedestrian may be hidden from view.

Other areas where drivers should be alert for youngsters include recreational sites, urban residential areas and suburban residential areas. Curves and driveways can create blind spots for drivers, and in some areas, a lack of recreational facilities can encourage children to play in the streets.

A rolling soccer ball may have a prospective athlete in pursuit and should be a warning to motorists.

Crossing guards and safety patrols will be on vacation, too, leaving busy intersections unsupervised. It's up to drivers to be alert for youngsters enjoying the warm weather.

AAA also urges parents to instruct their children in pedestrian safety, emphasizing the importance of being careful and playing only in supervised areas. Children should be instructed to cross streets only at corners after looking carefully both ways for oncoming cars and to proceed across the street at a walk, not a run.

Remember, it's up to drivers to be alert for youngsters enjoying the warm weather.

Opera

The Boston Summer Opera Theatre, celebrating its 12th season, will produce "The Barber of Seville" by Gioacchino Rossini at the Suffolk University Theatre at 41 Temple St., Boston (Beacon Hill). "The Barber of Seville," a comic opera in two acts, which contains the famous "Largo al factotum," or Figaro, and "Una voce poco fa" arias, opens on July 24 and will run the 25, 29, 31 and August 1. Tickets are available at Bostix and the theatre.

The Boston Summer Opera, a self-supporting, preprofessional company, dedicated to producing quality opera at low ticket prices, has engaged some of the most promising talent for this season's opera: Nicholas V. Palmer, music director; Mikhail Druhan, stage director; Marcus Haddock, Count Almaviva; William Thorpe, Figaro; Roberta Gilbert, Berta.

Over 35 Applicants For Manager

Response to Andover's advertisements for a new town manager has been "excellent" to date, Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon reported Monday night.

With more than a week to go before the July 10 deadline for submitting applications, more than 35 have already poured in to New England Municipal Center in Durham, N.H., Gammon said. That consulting firm will screen all applications before turning over 10 to the selectmen by July 25.

The consultants told Gammon they expect many more resumes to reach their offices during the next week, she added.

The board plans to begin interviewing candidates for the job just vacated by Jared S.A. Clark in mid-August, and hire a new manager by the end of September.

Police, Fire Contracts Approved

Jared S.A. Clark—now the former town manager—successfully negotiated new contracts with both the police sergeants and the fire deputies, he reported to the selectmen Monday night.

Fire Chief William Downs was present for final discussions of the fire deputies contract, and to sign the contract Monday night at town hall.

The new contract, approved by the selectmen, includes a new annual pay rate as of July 1 which is approximately 1.46 percent of the maximum firefighters' base rate of pay—$25,243. The deputy chiefs will also receive an additional three percent increase on Oct. 1, bringing their compensation to $26,000, and an increase to $26,090 as of January 1, 1982.

Still ongoing are negotiations with the Public Works Department. Director Robert McQuade was present Monday night to discuss those negotiations with the selectmen in executive session.

Departments Closed Friday

Due to the Independence Day holiday falling on Saturday this year, all town departments will be closed on Friday.

Town House offices will close at the end of the business day today until Monday morning.

Downtown stores will be open until 9 o'clock tonight and will be closed all day Saturday for the holiday.

Year End Funding Received

The final state reimbursements for the fiscal year ending June 30 resulted in receipt of $291,338 by the town.

The amount was part of the final distribution of $140 million to cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth by the state department of revenue.

Selectmen To Meet Monday

Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday night in town hall. Acting Town Manager Anthony Torrisi will be attending his first session in his new capacity.

Clown Chowder To Be Served At Park

Fresh from the kitchens of Vermont's Two Penny Theater and the Department of Community Services comes an all-new 1981 circus show: New England Clown Chowder to be held at Andover's Recreation Park on Wednesday, July 8, at 10 a.m. A small admission fee will be charged per person.

Clowning and circus skills have a special place in the history of Two Penny Theater. It was the company's Clown Show that gave birth to the theater eight years ago. The Clown Show played and played and was immensely popular with audiences of all ages in schools, colleges, fairs and with performing arts organizations throughout the region. New England Clown Chowder is a bright, new show in this lively tradition.

Partial funding for this performance was provided by the New England Foundation for the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts.

In 1841, Michael Faraday discovered how to induce an electric current by rotating a wire around a magnet.

Heating Pool To Be Discussed

On Wednesday, July 8, the Merrimack Valley Solar Energy Association will present Charles Edwards, president of Solex in Chelmsford. He will speak about the state of the art of solar swimming pool heating. Edwards designed a heating pool system with solar panels which was written up in Popular Mechanics and in Popular Science. He has worked in the solar field since 1974.

The talk is free and open to the public. It will take place at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School on River Road, Andover, in Room L-4 at 7:30 p.m. For further information, contact Julie Morse of Andover.

Students Get Awards

Diane Bobaker, organ student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bobaker, 119 Rattlesnake Hill Road, and Diane Bogusz, piano student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bogusz, 4 Abbot Bridge Road.

Valley Partners To Appear

The Valley Partners, formerly called Raintree, will perform in concert on Wednesday, July 8, at 7 p.m. as one of the Andover Department of Community Services Summer Concerts in Central Park.

Since May of 1976, Raintree has gathered an enthusiastic following at concerts, festivals, night clubs and schools. The sound is a true rainbow of musical colors: rich, dark mountain ballads, bright Bluegrass harmonies, bouncy country and swing tunes and a steady flow of tasty original songs. Raintree is especially known for combining its own brand of humor and powerful singing with exceptional instrumental talents. They don't just hold those instruments, they really play them!

The band members feel as musical trends come and go around them, they continue to play the music they love. "We feel that's the best kind of entertainment, and our audiences have responded warmly. We have found, time and again, that the music speaks as simply and beautifully to others as it does to us."

The Wednesday, July 15, concert in the park will feature the rock n roll band, Eternity, beginning at 7 p.m.

Elected Trustees

Two Andover women, Shirley S. French and Phyllis S. Miner, were recently reelected as members of the board of trustees, Governor Dummer Academy in byfield.

Mrs. French, who serves as the trustee liaison with the National Association of Independent Schools, is a member of the academy's long range planning and buildings and grounds committees. She has been instrumental in both preserving and developing the facilities of the 300 acre campus.

Mrs. Miner, chair of the nominating committee, also serves on the executive, long range planning and capital fund development committees.

Founded in 1763, Governor Dummer is the nation's oldest college preparatory boarding school for boys. The academy became co-educational in 1971 and enrolls 330 students, grades 9-12.

Arthur Ashe, the tennis great, was born July 10, 1943.

three talented performers on the same bill.

NOW Accounts / Pay-by-phone / Personal Touch banking.

They're our three biggest head-liners.

Take NOW Account checking, for example. It pays 5 1/4% interest on your money, and it features a simple monthly statement listing all transactions for easy record keeping. And, when you maintain a balance of $300, it's absolutely free.

Pay-by-phone can be just as free as your NOW Account. It can save you time and money, too. No more grueling check writing sessions; no more postage on bills. All it takes is a single phone call; we'll pay your bills for you. It's that easy, and that convenient.

And, of course, Personal Touch banking allows you to make deposits, withdrawals or transfers between accounts anytime . . . day or night. We can't think of anything more convenient than being open 24 hours.

Stop into any office of Andover Bank soon and ask about our talented performers. You may not get a song and dance, but you will find that doing your banking is a whole lot easier.

Named Merrimack Trustee

Gary M. Cypress

Andover resident Gary M. Cypress is one of five new members appointed to Merrimack College's board of trustees, Merrimack President Rev. John E. Deegan has announced.

Cypress, a native of New York City, is senior vice-president of finance at Wheelabrator-Frye Inc. in Hampton, N.H. A graduate of Hofstra College, he was employed by Arthur Anderson & Company, New York City, before joining Wheelabrator-Frye in 1973. He served there as vice president and controller until 1980, when he was appointed to his present position.

Cypress is a member of several business associations, including the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants, the Financial Executives' Institute, the American Management Associations, the American Institute of Corporate Controllers, and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He also serves on the board of directors of Arlington Trust Company.

He and his wife, Marjorie, have three daughters.

The other new members appointed to the board are Anne Marie Samway, former associate dean of students at Fairfield University; Rev. John M. Driscoll, O.S.A., president of Villanova University; Rev. Edmund J. Dobbin, O.S.A., an associate professor of systematic theology at the Washington Theological Union, Washington, D.C.; and Francis L. Broderick, a Commonwealth professor at the University of Massachusetts in Boston.

"I am looking forward to working with the new members of the board," President Deegan said. "They are all outstanding individuals who possess a wide range of backgrounds which will be a definite asset to the college."

Plass Gets Major Award

Timothy W. Plass, a 1981 graduate of Phillips Academy, won one of Andover's major awards among the graduated class of 425 seniors at the independent 203-year-old coeducational boarding school.

Plass was awarded the Phillips Academy's Van Duzer Andover-Harvard Prize, a $1000 prize awarded on the basis of high scholarship to a graduating senior for use during the freshman year at Harvard College. He also won the Pamela Weidenman Memorial Prize in Art, and was editor of the school yearbook. Plass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil W. Plass of Lowell Street, Andover.

On Dean's List

Five Andover residents have been named to the dean's list at Austin Preparatory School, Reading, for the spring semester, while several have been named to the fourth quarter honor roll.

The dean's list students are senior Thomas Glynn; sophomores Mark Connolly and Stephen Landry; and freshmen Richard Conron and Michael Corcoran.

On the fourth-quarter honor roll are freshman Michael Corcoran, with first honors; and with second honors, seniors Thomas Glynn, Jr. and Peter Iannazzi; juniors John Callahan, Jr., John Cohan, Dennis Glynn and Shawn Rogers; sophomores Mark Connolly, Stephen Landry and Timothy White; and freshman Richard Conron.

A number of local residents were among the more than 1,000 students awarded graduate and undergraduate degrees during the 85th commencement of Fitchburg State College held recently.

Harvard

Two Andover residents were among the graduate students at Harvard University who received degrees June 4 at the school's 330th commencement exercises in Harvard Yard.

Philip Howard Fiske, 15 Mohawk Drive, received his degree from the Graduate School of Business Administration, and Sheila T. Balboni, 34 Phillips St., received hers from the Graduate School of Education.

Andover residents who each received a master's degree were Nancy I. Tynning of 221 Beacon St., with a degree in elementary education; Susan L. Childs of 135 North St., elementary education; Carol A. Doyle of 11 Westwind Road, medical technology; Evelyn F. Itz of 6 Twin Brooks Circle, medical technology; and Charlene A. Merola of 215 Salem St., in special education.

North Andover residents who each received master's degrees were Lois R. LaChapelle of 1905 Salem St., with a degree in special education; and Nancy J. Doherty of 39 Longwood Ave., psychology.

More than 5,000 attended the open-air commencement on the college campus and heard the Rev. James A. Houston, director of continuing education for clergy in the Worcester Diocese, urge the graduates to "choose life, not death; commitment, not apathy."

Honorary degrees were awarded to James J. Hammond, Fitchburg, the former Chancellor of the Massachusetts State College system; Walter Flinn, North Andover, a former trustee of the state college system; and J. Irving England, West Brookfield, an alumnus of the college.

Dorothy H. Kelly, a Boston pediatrician and alumna of the college, received a Distinguished Alumni Award for her research into the causes and prevention of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

The nanoprocessor, a computer element that's a thousand times more powerful than the microprocessor, is expected to be available within 10 years.

Villanova

Andover resident Paula J. Wesson of 38 York St. was among 2,000 graduates who were recently conferred degrees during 138th commencement ceremonies at Villanova University, Villanova, Penn.

Wesson received a bachelor's degree.

EXPERT GROOMING

Never Kenneled Your Dog Before????

A personal consultation will calm your fears and your dog will enjoy his stay while you enjoy your vacation.

"About 1965 I went in search of a place to board my 3 dogs. I didn't want them in a hospital — or a cage — most kennels caged their dogs and conditions were repulsive to me. I cancelled my vacation. I had a small building that I converted with "stalls and runs." Cost (those days) $800.00 — capacity 11 dogs. I put in this building what I wanted my own dogs to have. That was the beginning of TEE-EMM'S KENNEL. Capacity now 513 Dogs and Cats (separate floors). We are now putting up a new modern building (our 5th) that will be completed this spring — it will be SUPER BEAUTIFUL. We are indeed very proud of it and a dream has come true."

BOARDING FINEST FACILITIES

Going on vacation? Why not give your dog or cat a great vacation too — not a prison sentence, let them "enjoy" your absence. We feature large "roomettes" (not cages) for your dog's comfort and safety with escape-proof individual outside covered runs. Air-cooled for summer, mosquito controlled, ultra-violet lights for germ control, 24 hour resident supervision. Veterinarian on call 24 hours. Separate areas for females in season.

DOG MISBEHAVING?

We will train your dog without you in 11 days. Problem dogs a specialty. Some people think they have to train their own dog. Huh? Well, if you were getting a "horse" you wouldn't buy a wild one from the WEST and have your family break him in, you would have it done professionally.

"WE ARE PROFESSIONALS"

Obedience Classes for you and your dog. This is not a sideline with us. Supervised by an AKC All Breed Licensed Handler.

"CAT HOUSE"

Private cattery. One whole floor exclusively for cats. (No dogs here to worry them). Individual "TREE FILLED" huge pens (not cages) from the floor to the ceiling, big enough for a pony, for your cat's comfort and pleasure.

SPOTLESSLY CLEAN!!!

EVERYTHING FOR A HEALTHY HAPPY PET

Pet supplies, collars, leads, shampoo, flea oint, crates, dog food, etc. Our prices are 1/2 less than the average pet shop. Make us prove it!

BULLETIN!!!

Did You know we do: — Radio
Write dog columns — Entertain groups
Teach dog psychology — Lecture on dogs (Local schools)

Chairman of the advisory board of Essex Agricultural Institute. Mini Course teacher.

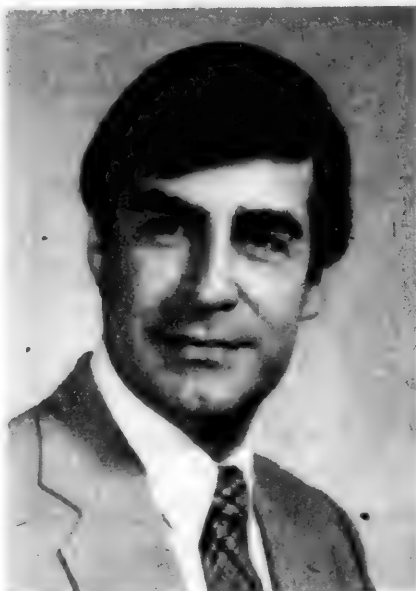

Now "DOGGY DADDY" and his kennel are appearing on nationwide television on HBO Cable on "Crazy And Wonderful." Watch for us.

13 Acres devoted to your pets happiness. And you will enjoy your vacation even more with no worry and concern. You will know your pet's care will be under the strict supervision of "Doggy Daddy", Ted Meisner, the famous dog expert and his large staff of dedicated professionals.

OPEN DAILY 9-5

Mrs. Michael T. Shannon

Shannon—O'Hara

Carolyn Winn O'Hara, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard S. O'Hara, 10 Bancroft Road, was married Saturday to Michael Timothy Shannon, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul V. Shannon of Worcester.

The 2:30 p.m. ceremony was held at St. Augustine's Church, Andover, with the Rev. Robert W. Bullock of Sharon, a cousin of the bride, as the principal celebrant. His brother, the Rev. Myron F. Bullock of Lanesville, con-celebrated the Nuptial Mass with the Rev. John Aherne, O.S.A., of Merrimack College, the Rev. Frank Nash, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's, and the Rev. Joseph Scannel, S.J., from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester.

Mary Lannigan provided organ music, and soloists were Dr. Santo S. Cantadella and Martha King.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of silk organza with a sculpted Queen Anne neckline bodice trimmed with seed pearls and Alencon lace, and a flowing cathedral-length skirt. Her veil, also cathedral length and handsewn by her mother, was embroidered with Alencon lace and seed pearls.

Alyson A. O'Hara of Andover attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Cynthia L. Welch of Framingham, the bride's cousin; Catherine M. Sligar of Louisville, Kentucky, a sister of the groom; Maria E. Marasco of Andover; Deborah A. Pelles of Wellesley; Joanne M. Mikulich of East Greenwich, R.I.; and Patricia A. McGinley of Short Hills, N.J.

Paul V. Shannon of Worcester served as his brother's best man, and ushers included the bride's brothers, Richard S. O'Hara, Jr., Christopher R. O'Hara and Sheridan L. O'Hara, all of Andover; James B. Kefflewell of Avon, CT; Francis R. McCarthy of Milton; Stephan O'Neill of Worcester; and William L. Hennrikus of Washington, D.C.

James D. O'Hara of Andover, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony, and the couple took a wedding trip to Cambridge Beaches, Bermuda.

The new Mrs. Shannon, a graduate of Andover High School and the College of the Holy Cross, spent her junior year abroad at the Albert-Ludwigs University in Freiburg, West Germany. She is currently employed by The Boston Company's International Group in Boston.

Her husband, a graduate of Worcester Academy and Holy Cross, attended Boston University Graduate School in biology. He is currently studying at the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine.

They will be making their home in Brighton.

Dorchester Site

At the Dorchester Heights National Historic Site, Thomas Park at Telegraph Street, visitors can see the colonial revival memorial tower commemorating the British evacuation of Boston in 1776. Guided walks free on request. Daily 9 to 4. Exit 17 off Route 93, to Day Boulevard.

Bus Tours

The Museum of Fine Arts is offering bus tours of Boston's art and architecture every Wednesday during July. Accompanied by two museum-trained guides, the tours explore Boston's Back Bay, Beacon Hill, downtown and the waterfront, surveying architecture from Colonial through the contemporary period.

The tour bus leaves from the MFA entrance on Huntington Avenue at 10 each Wednesday morning and returns tourists to the museum at noon. The charge includes admission to the museum after the tour.

Coordinator of the Boston art-architecture bus tours, Mrs. James Q. Wilson (Belmont), reports these bus tours have been extremely popular with visitors in past years and is a "great way to see Boston in comfort—but do wear comfortable shoes since we include a leisurely 30-minute walk of Beacon Hill."

Mrs. Robert L. V. French of Andover is among the MFA Ladies Committee Associates serving as tour guides.

Mrs. William J. Casazza

Casazza—Miller

Kimberly Miller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward S. Miller of Andover, became the bride Saturday of William James Casazza of Chicago.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was held at the home of her parents, 17 Sunset Rock Road, with the Rev. Albert G. Butzer III officiating.

Given in marriage by her parents, she was attended by Deborah Rogers of Andover as maid of honor.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Casazza of Lake Street, Arlington. His brother, Alfred Casazza of Arlington, served as best man and Edward S. Miller II, the bride's brother, was usher.

The new Mrs. Casazza attended Phillips Academy and Tufts University, while her husband attended Tufts University and the Notre Dame Graduate School of Business. He is a CPA with Ernst & Whittney.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will be living in Chicago.

Aid Group Completes Season

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association ended another successful year recently at their 30th annual meeting. The Aid Association totals 516 active members with 26 members on the board of directors. Highlights of the meeting included the introduction of new board members and presentation of the gift to the chairman of the board of trustees.

The new members are: Jill McCann, Wynne Griffin, Leslie Curtiss, Joan Abrahamson, Trish Quinlan. At the same time the slate of officers was presented, which includes Anna Pellegrino, president; Eliza Webster, vice president; Gretchen Leone, recording secretary; Judie McManus, corresponding secretary; Stella McClintock, treasurer; Lois Ann Whitney, executive committee; Anna Paradis, at-large.

The retiring board members were presented with plants and service pins. They included Patty Frothingham, Sue Morton, Kathy Rosen, Wendy Stern and Edna

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Velardocchia

Velardocchia—Lindsey

At home in Boxborough are Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence Velardocchia, who were married May 16 in St. Michael's Church, Bedford.

The bride is the former Laura Leigh Lindsey, formerly of Andover, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Samburg of Boston. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Velardocchia of Carlisle.

The Rev. Joseph Driscoll officiated at the 6:15 p.m. ceremony, and a reception followed at the Sheraton Tara in Framingham.

The bride wore the peau de soie wedding gown that was the groom's mother's, embroidered with French lace and pearls. She wore a matching veil and carried red roses and ivy.

Jeanie Llewellyn of Andover attended as her maid of honor, and bridesmaids included the bride's sister, Michele Washak of Beverly; Ellen Fitzpatrick of Dublin, N.H.; Valeria Pagano of Overland Park, Kansas; and Dianne Velardocchia of Carlisle, the groom's sister.

Keith Herndon of Carlisle was best man and ushers were Rick Amodei, Rick Read and Steve Read, all of Concord.

The couple took a wedding trip to Cape Cod.

The new Mrs. Velardocchia graduated from Andover High in 1975, and Tufts University in 1979, with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering. She is an electrical engineer for Hewlett Packard. Her husband, a 1975 graduate of Concord-Carlisle High School, received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in electrical engineering from Tufts. He is an electrical engineer at Polaroid.

Lowell Scenes

"Lowell Scenes of the City," is a special exhibit planned for July 8 to Aug. 4 at the Art Alive! Gallery, 200 Merrimack St., Lowell. The gallery, a non-profit organization, is open Monday through Saturday, 10 to 4.

Witchcraft Play Opens At Institute

The Essex Institute, 132 Essex St., Salem, is presenting an exhibition which has become, by demand, an annual event on the theme of the local witchcraft trials. The 1981 display is entitled "Salem Witches: Documents of an Early American Drama."

Since the 1978 acquisition of the large oil painting "Examination of a Witch" by T.H. Matteson, New York artist of historical, allegorical and religious scenes in the mid-19th century, the Essex Institute has shown two works believed to be the best painted reproductions of the 1692 Salem witchcraft phenomenon. The companion canvas by Matteson, "The Trial of George Jacobs," has been on display for many years.

The prized witchcraft paintings are but a segment of the rich material necessary to mount an exhibit on the subject of Salem witchcraft. Few original artifacts remain, and they will be featured along with pictorial representations.

The Institute has been especially fortunate this year in being the recipient organization by deposit of all Salem Courthouse records dated prior to 1800. This, of course, includes all witchcraft trial documents of 1692 which have been deacidified and treated for future preservation.

Antiques

On July 7, 8 and 9, "The Ship" on the grounds of Wentworth-by-the-sea, Route 1-B, New Castle, N.H., will be the scene of the 16th annual Antiques Show sponsored by the Guild of Strawberry Banke, Inc.

Approximately 35 antiques dealers from all over the New England area and as far away as New Jersey and Maryland, will set up their booths at "The Ship" where they will display and sell a great variety of antiques. Collectors, antiques lovers and those who simply like to browse will enjoy the many artifacts from an earlier age when fine craftsmanship was prized. There will be sought after antiques from the households of great-grandmother's time such as exquisite china and silver; furniture fashioned by master craftsmen, brasses, crystal, paintings, lamps, vases and dozens of other displays of interest.

This show, under the direction of Lloyd A. Hathaway of Boston, is held each year to support the continuation of restorations at the historic preservation of Strawberry Banke, Inc. in Portsmouth, N.H.

vation. The Essex Institute is the only place where visitors may examine, at their leisure, artifacts related to that dark period of Salem history.

Summer museum hours are 9 to 4:30 Monday through Saturday and 1 to 5 on Sunday. Between July 4 and Labor Day, hours are extended to 6 p.m. There is no additional fee for the witchcraft display beyond regular admissions. Members are free and Essex County residents pay half-price admission on Sundays.

The exhibit runs through Nov. 1 and is accompanied by a ten-minute slide presentation. For further information, call the Essex Institute.

Comedy At Playhouse

Town & Country Playhouse, Salem, N.H., will present the hilarious Woody Allen comedy "Don't Drink the Water," a show designed strictly for laughs. The fun begins when american tourists rush into an American embassy behind the Iron Curtain and plot their escape. The production is directed by three-year Town & Country veteran, Mark Moffett, and features Mark Hallen and Nancy Jane Williams in the leading roles.

"Don't Drink the Water" is performed nightly until the fifth. The Town & Country Playhouse is located on Geremonty Drive just off Route 93 at Exit 1.

Stephens-Bussiere

Jeanne Elaine Bussiere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bussiere of East Setauket, N.Y., was married on June 27 to James Walter Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens of Allentown, PA.

The wedding took place at Sylvia Pratt Kemper Chapel at Phillips Academy, where both are on the faculty.

Philip Zaeder, chaplain of the school, performed the ceremony.

Elizabeth Bussiere attended her sister, and Andrew Stephens was best man for his brother.

The bride was graduated from Dartmouth College and received a Masters Degree from Queen Mary College of London University. She did further graduate work at Indiana University. Her father is principal of Shoreham-Wading River High School on Long Island.

Stephens, a doctoral candidate at Columbia University, was graduated from Princeton University. His father is president of the Harold Stephens Company in Allentown.

Andover's 'America' Honored

By Sue Aucella Deacon

One of this country's favorite patriotic anthems is being honored in Massachusetts this week, for it was performed for the first time in Boston 150 years ago as part of an Independence Day celebration. The lyrics, so familiar to every American schoolchild, were in fact penned in Andover, by a student of the Andover Theological Seminary, Phillips Academy.

"My country, 'tis of thee/ Sweet land of liberty/ Of thee I sing," 24-year-old Samuel Francis Smith wrote in the winter of 1831, to the tune of an old German patriotic song. The student's verse so impressed a noted composer, Lowell Mason, that Mason played "America" at an Independence Day ceremony at Boston's Park Street Church later that year.

Governor Edward King has proclaimed this week "America" week, calling the song in his proclamation a "great patriotic hymn (that) symbolizes our democratic way of life."

At noon on Sunday, the first performance of the hymn will be re-enacted on the steps of the Park Street Church on Boston Common, where director Eric Benjamin will lead a children's choir of 40 voices — much as Lowell Mason led his children's choir 150 summers ago. Governor King will offer greetings from the Commonwealth.

Samuel Francis Smith was born in Boston in 1808. After graduating from Harvard College in 1829, he came to the Andover Theological Seminary to prepare for the Baptist ministry. While at the seminary, Smith lived in the Main Street home of Mrs. Arthur Allen, known to many as the Blunt house.

Smith's moment of patriotic inspiration happened when Lowell Mason, a famous organist and composer who would become known as "the father of church music in America," lent him a selection of German music books. Mason suggested the student translate the lyrics, or write new ones, for any music that captured his fancy.

What caught Smith's eye was a patriotic tune that was already at least 100 years old and was, unknown to Smith, England's national anthem ("God Save the Queen"). The seminarian "instantly felt the impulse to write a patriotic hymn of my own to the same tune," Smith later recalled, as described in Andover, What It Was, What It Is, a local history published on the town's 300th anniversary.

(The original tune is attributed to Henry Carey, best known as author of Sally in Our Alley, who reportedly wrote it in 1742; it may in fact be older.)

Smith scribbled five verses to the song on "a scrap of waste paper" within half an hour, and then scratched out one verse. Some believe he was inspired by the Andover countryside when he wrote of America's "rocks and rills, woods and templed hills."

Smith returned the music books to Mason, with his translations and the words to "America" tucked inside. When Mason played the hymn that summer at the Park Street Church, "it caught the attention of the audience and rapidly spread throughout the country," the Andover history reports.

Smith was gratified at the national response to his heartfelt verse: "When it was composed, I was profoundly impressed with the necessary relation between love of God and love of country," he explained, "and I rejoice if the expression of my own sentiments and convictions still finds an answering chord in the hearts of my countrymen."

Although Smith continued to write both poetry and prose — Poems of Home and Country was published in 1895, the year he died — none of his literary efforts proved as memorable as the lyrics to "America." He went on to distinguish himself in other fields, however: Ordained in 1834, he held pastorates in Waterville, Maine, and became a language professor at Waterville College (now Colby College.)

He became pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newton Center in 1842, edited the Christian Review from 1842 to 1848, and served as editorial secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union. He traveled to missionary stations throughout Europe and Asia, later writing accounts of his journeys. Smith died in Boston in November, 1895, at the age of 87.

For many years it was believed that Smith wrote "America" in 1832. The 100th anniversary of the song was noted by Congress and observed in 1932. But an original copy of the Park Street Church program for Lowell Mason's performance confirms the 1831 date; the program is in the Harvard Library.

Smith's original verses on the scrap of waste paper are now in the Harvard Library as well. But the chair in which it is believed he sat as he scribbled the lyrics can be seen in the "America" house at Phillips Academy. The academy bought the chair from Smith's family in 1926.

Samuel Francis Smith's simple hymn has become famous throughout the world; there is even an autographed copy in the Vatican Library in Rome. And it seems entirely likely that, as one of Smith's most prominent Harvard classmates, Oliver Wendell Holmes, once predicted, "America" will last as long as the country.

Trips For Seniors Planned

The fall schedule of overnight trips for Andover senior residents, offered through the Andover Council on Aging, has been announced, with trips planned for September, October and November.

Seniors will be offered a three-day trip to Kennebunkport, Maine, September 10-12. They will spend three days and two nights at the Village Cove Inn, highlighted by the tang of the salt air, the twang of Down Easters' conversation and the taste of lobster and clams. The trip will include a tour of the Seaside Trolley Museum, a cruise on a lobster boat and a real down east lobster bake.

October 16-18, seniors will travel to the Harrison Inn in Southbury, Connecticut. Fall foliage should be at its peak during this weekend in a quaint, rustic inn in the Berkshires. Golf, a pool, sauna, tennis, cabaret entertainment, a dinner theatre production and a New England brunch will be featured attractions.

And a trip to New Orleans, including two days and three nights aboard a steamboat, will be offered November 17-22. Seniors will spend four days in New Orleans, home of the Mardi Gras and the French Quarter, exploring the history of a city that recalls the era of swashbucklers and pirates. Then they will board the Delta Queen steamboat for a taste of life on the Mississippi.

For further information, contact Madeleine Simeone, trip chairman, at the Andover Council on Aging office.

Accepted At Berklee

Boston's Berklee College of Music has enrolled Barry S. Ota, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob T. Ota of 160 Salem St., Andover, in its freshman class of fall 1981.

Berklee offers the Bachelor of Music degree as well as a four-year program leading to the Professional Diploma. Majors focus upon practical career preparation for today's vital music industry, including professional music, performance, jazz composition and arranging and music education.

Ota's curriculum will encompass unique course offerings that emphasize improvisation, recording studio techniques, popular vocal arranging, songwriting and the writing of background music for films and other media productions.

Colonial Band

On Sunday, July 5, Crane's Music, a ceremonial ensemble which recreates one of the few authentic wind bands in the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, will perform on the grounds of the Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington, at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The original Crane's Music was an ensemble of eight or nine musicians which performed for both military and civilian functions from 1777-1783, and was attached to the 3rd Continental Artillery Regiment.

Howell M. Stillman, Former Bank President, Civic Leader

Howell M. Stillman, 92, 9-08 Meadow Lakes, Hightstown, N.J., former president of Bay State National Bank, and active in Andover municipal and civic affairs, died Sunday at Princeton Hospital, Princeton, N.J.

Born in Newark, N.J., he had resided in Andover for many years prior to returning to New Jersey in 1978. As an Andover resident he served as a member of the Finance Committee, Andover Taxpayers Association and was prominent in the movement which led to the adoption of the town manager charter in 1958.

He was president of the Bay State National Bank until his retirement 22 years ago. Prior to that he was head of the New England District of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. He was a commissioner of the Massachusetts Development Corp., and was a founder and past president of the Andover Artists Guild. He was well-known as a tenor soloist in New York area churches and during World War I he entertained Army troops under the auspices of the YMCA. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a past president of the Lawrence Rotary Club. He was an officer of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, member of the Sons of the American Revolution and a former member of Grace Episcopal Church, Lawrence.

The widower of Mary (Martin) Stil-

Howell M. Stillman

man, he is survived by daughters, Mrs. Jean Cornstock of Lexington and Mrs. Helen List of Little Silver, N.J.; a son, Lewis M. of Yarmouth Port; a brother, W. Paul of Fairhaven, N.J.; 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held today at 9 a.m. at West Parish Cemetery, Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

OBITUARIES

Thelma L. Whitcomb

Thelma L. (Simpson) Whitcomb, 58, 6 Boston Road, Andover, died June 24, at Deaconess Hospital, Boston, following a long illness.

Born in Lawrence, she was an Andover resident for 22 years. She had been employed at the Hilltop Restaurant, Saugus, for 27 years. She attended Christ Episcopal Church.

She is survived by her husband, Frederick R. Whitcomb, an inspector with the Registry of Motor Vehicles; a son, Frederick R., III of Andover; daughters, Mrs. Judy Fedorchuk of Andover and Mrs. Christie Lee Eberhardt of Fremont, N.H.; and a grandson, John Fedorchuk.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Christ Episcopal Church. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association Northeastern Massachusetts, 89 North Main St., Andover, MA.

Alice Damon

Alice (Currier) Damon, 94, 140 Prescott St., North Andover, died June 25, at Prescott House Nursing Home, North Andover, following a long illness.

Born in Lawrence, she had owned and operated Little Lady Dress Shop, Lowell, for many years. She was a member of the Andover Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and attended the former Trinity Congregational Church, Lawrence.

She is survived by daughters, Mrs. Clarence E. (Barbara) Morrison of North Andover and Mrs. Andrew (Mildred) Fulle of South Freeport, Maine; a granddaughter, Mrs. Francis P. (Barbara L.) Daughan of York, Maine, and two great-grandsons, Andrew and Benjamin Daughan of York, Maine.

A private family service was held Saturday in West Parish Cemetery, Andover, under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Crotched Mountain Foundation, Greenfield, N.H. 03047.

Dividend

The Board of Directors of the Charles River Breeding Laboratories declared a cash dividend of .09 cents per share on the corporation's $1.00 Par Value Common Stock, payable on July 17, 1981, to shareholders of record at the close of business on June 30, 1981.

This marks the 22nd consecutive quarter that Charles River has paid a cash dividend.

The Charles River Breeding Laboratories has production facilities throughout the U.S., Canada, France, England, Italy, Japan and Germany. The Charles River Companies are the world's largest producers of laboratory animals.

Homes Needed For Students

Nearly 30 students from Spain, ranging in age from 13-20, will be visiting Andover during the month of August in conjunction with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS).

The students, who pay their own expense to travel to this country, will be arriving in New York City on July 28 and will be transported to Andover on July 30.

Their stay in Andover will last until August 28. While in Andover, the students will be housed individually as guests in homes of town residents. According to Jeannie Carew, a resident of Andover who is the coordinator for AIFS in Andover, about five families have volunteered to house students so far.

This marks the fourth year that foreign students will visit the Andover-North Andover area as part of the foreign study program. Students from Spain and other foreign countries have been here in the past.

Families who wish to house a student for the month would be responsible for providing a bed, meals, and making sure the student gets to the education center every morning. Car pools with every family involved have been used in the past.

The students, who all speak English, will attend daily classes in English, American history and culture.

Instructors will include Jeannie Carew, who has been teaching at Andover High School, and Mark Small, a teacher and guidance counselor in Billerica.

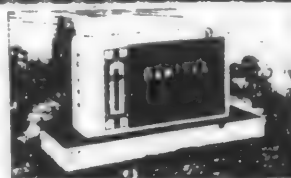

The 30 or so students, who come from every part of Spain, will be accompanied by an advisor, a teacher from their own country.

Anyone interested in housing a student during their visit to America can contact Jeannie Carew, 6 Smithshire Estates, Andover, for more information.

Memorial Hall Library

What's New At The Library?

"Books on Tape," a new series of novels on cassettes, is now available for patrons at Memorial Hall Library. Designed for readers with vision problems as well as commuters and "at home listeners," the cassettes may be borrowed at the Reference Desk for a three-week period. Present titles include such classics and novels as "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "On the Beach," "Lust for Life," and "The Key to Rebecca." The initial collection of books on tape has been obtained through a gift of the Andover Lions Club. Memorial Hall Library will continue to acquire additional titles, including non-fiction, as funds become available.

How Fast Can You Read?

Almost everyone can improve their reading speed and Memorial Hall Library is the place to learn the techniques to do so. The popular Speedreading Course for students and adults, given by Sanborn Associates, will start next week at the library. A morning course, each Tuesday and Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to noon, will begin on July 7 and end on July 30. The Wednesday evening course from 7-9 p.m. will begin on July 8 and end on August 5. Registrations are still being taken at the Circulation Desk at Memorial Hall Library. The fee is $45, payable at the first session.

When Is The Library Open?

Memorial Hall Library will be closed on Friday, July 3, in observance of Independence Day. Patrons are also reminded that the library is now on its summer schedule and is closed both Saturday and Sunday through Labor Day. Summer hours are 9-9, Monday-Friday.

Have You Read About The Wedding, Old Chap?

As the wedding of the year approaches, Memorial Hall Library is exhibiting memorabilia of the British royal family in all three display cases. Included are commemorative pieces from the coronations of both George VI and Elizabeth II, Elizabeth's Silver Jubilee and current articles about Prince Charles. The biographies of many of the family members are also on display and available for loan.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

"Read Your Way to Stardom," our new summer reading program, is now underway in the Children's Room, and all-age children who are reading are invited to participate. Five different constellation charts with varying numbers of stars are available for children to choose from. A star will be awarded for each book that is read over a seven-week period. The charts will be hung in the Children's Room until the completion of the program, at which time reading certificates will be awarded.

Other programs in the Children's Room this summer include "Sleepytime Stories," a new story hour for children 3½-5 years to enjoy on warm summer Monday evenings. Starting July 6 at 7 p.m., this program will feature 45 minutes of bedtime stories, songs and fingerplays and no registration will be necessary.

Our morning story hour, "Story-Go-Round," which is also for the 3½-5 set, will commence this upcoming week on Tuesday, July 7. Again, no pre-registration is required but we'll start promptly at 10 a.m., so plan to arrive a few minutes ahead of time.

The Wednesday afternoon feature film on July 8 will be Walt Disney's lively adventure, "Bedknobs and Broomsticks." Geared for school-age children, this program will begin at 2 p.m. and free tickets will be available in the Children's Room one-half hour prior to the show.

Volunteer

Lawrence General Hospital still has a variety of volunteer opportunities for junior volunteers, especially on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays.

To be a junior volunteer, a person must be at least 14 years old and be able to volunteer one day a week from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Such a volunteer experience could be especially valuable for anyone considering a medical or other health-related career, comments Mary O'Brien, director of volunteers. Those interested should call the volunteer office to arrange an interview.

Room is a beautiful Noah's Ark with 180 pairs of animals and birds which Mr. Daniel Olivier of Andover has been collecting since 1968. Represented in this amazing menagerie are just about everything from anteaters to zebras, but Mrs. Olivier is still looking for badgers, bats and porcupines for her collection.

The fastest bird alive is called, appropriately, the swift. It is capable of speeds of more than 200 miles per hour.

Officially Underway

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held last Friday morning at the high school site for the $13 million school building project, culminating years of planning and town meeting consideration. On hand to get the project officially underway were, from left, Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert, J. Everett Collins, for whom the new auditorium building will be named, former School Board Chairman Elaine Viehmann, School Committeeman Donald Robb, Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper, Selectman Chairman Norma Gammon and Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

School Project Gets Underway

Ground was officially broken at Andover High School last Friday morning to kick off the school building project, years in the planning, but construction hasn't really started yet, thanks to the carpenters' union strike.

Peabody Construction Company may send construction trailers to the site by the end of this week or early next week. Project Manager William Mansell reported Tuesday. But until the carpenters' strike is settled, little will happen with the $13.72 million project, he said.

"The carpenters' strike has retarded progress," he explained. "The contractor hasn't hurried to get started yet because they can't go anywhere until the strike is settled. But once the strike is over," he added, "you'll see them going bang-bang."

Work is well underway, however, on a new central telephone system being installed at the high school. The school switchboard has been located in the Stowe School, but that school will be razed this summer to make way for construction at the Doherty School.

Town officials, including selectmen, members of the school and school building committees and Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, and architects from Perley F. Gilbert Associates attended last Friday's ceremonies at the site where a 1,250-seat high school auditorium will be built. Existing portions of the high school will also be renovated.

The three-part project also calls for converting the Doherty school into a junior high school to replace East Junior High, using the Memorial Auditorium wing of F.H.S. as part of the new school while building a new addition onto Doherty.

ty; and building a new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C., or library) in the courtyard of West Junior High, along with classroom renovations.

Playing fields for the three schools will also be improved.

He's 'Up With People' Fulfilling A Dream

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Bill Leary

Bill Leary, 18, of 4 Cardinal Lane will leave Sunday for a year of travelling the world with the musical group "Up With People," an experience he hopes will help prepare him for a career in music or business, or both.

The 1981 Andover High School graduate, the son of Francis and Margaret Leary, first dreamed of joining the large group — known for its upbeat music and all-American look — two years ago, when he saw "People" perform at Merrimack College.

Following a long correspondence to find out how he could audition for the group, Leary followed them to a concert in New Bedford, on May 30. There he was interviewed by a member of the cast, then referred to the admission office, based in Tucson, Arizona.

Three weeks ago, Leary learned that he had been chosen to join the group's cast of 500 for one year, starting July 1. The performers, all between 17 and 25, are grouped into five casts of 100 members each.

The "Up With People" casts travel all

Riles' Recycles July 6

On Monday, July 6, Riles' Recycling, owned and operated by F.P. Reilly and Sons of Andover, will begin the town's new recycling system. On the regular rubbish collection day all newspapers and magazines, tied or in grocery bags; corrugated cardboard, collapsed and tied; and clear, green and brown glass, separated by color and placed in reusable containers or grocery bags will be picked up.

Although all the usual recyclables will be collected at the same time, they are, as always, to be in separate bundles or containers according to kind.

Recycling pickups will be made every other week, following the July 1981 through June 1982 calendar and instructions mailed to Andover households in mid-June.

Townpeople who failed to receive this mailing may obtain the calendar and information sheet at the town clerk's and the tax collector's offices in Andover Town Hall.

Andover Recycles decals are available in both offices, as well as the Veterans' Service office, also in Town Hall.

Bonding Approval For Firm

The selectmen Monday night voted their preliminary approval of $1.7 million in industrial revenue financing for an Andover business that may expand by renovating an old mill warehouse and building a new warehouse in Ballardvale.

Arthur Weinberg of Eastern Products Corp., a company that recycles tires to make new rubber products, told the board he plans to restore a warehouse built in the 1840s that was once part of the P.W. Moody woolen mills. He estimates that bringing the building up to safety codes and remodeling the interior may cost up to $50,000.

Weinberg would also like to build a new warehouse of up to 20,000 square feet, and "beautify the area" with landscaping.

The company currently operates out of a manufacturing plant on Dale Street in Ballardvale, with offices in Malden. Weinberg said he would consolidate the operation by adding office space to the renovated mill, and moving his offices to Andover.

Eastern Products currently employs 22 people, with 13 working in Andover and nine in Malden. But if a government contract Weinberg is currently discussing with the Department of Energy comes through, the company could add 10 new employees over a three-year period, he indicated.

The company currently has no warehouse space, Weinberg said, and must lease space to store the products it man-

Bazaar Days Successful

Two days of clear skies, an abundance of bargains, entertainment and appearance of a Soap Opera star, produced one of the most successful Sidewalk Bazaar promotions ever for Andover's Center Merchants. The two-day event provided good times and good shopping for the thousands of visitors to the downtown area. Some scenes from the event, clockwise from upper left: Bargain-hunters at Russem's; Steven Rosadini, three, of North Andover, gets stuck on cotton candy; Cardine Suzzo and Francine Grecoe check over some of the offerings at a clothing store; picking up some choice items at Pappagallo's; Timmy and Michael Sheehy, ten-months-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Brendan Sheehy, 18 Argyle St., thoughtfully contemplate the scene; Elizabeth Cox, of Canterbury St., makes some selections at the book sale at the library.

A Job Well Done

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark leaves office this week to assume a new career in the private sector.

We wish him well in his new endeavors and couple those feelings with appreciation for a job well done here during his brief tenure as Andover's chief administrator.

There are those critical of his taking leave at the beginning of a major building project as well as having some departments in disarray as the town proceeds toward the retention of another administrator.

But, it would be difficult to deny a person the opportunity to improve his personal life, thinking of course of the well-being of a young family. The professional municipal management profession is not one abundant in longevity for incumbents, and hardly the type of job where one establishes roots for any long period of time.

Also, while the current board of selectmen, to whom the manager is responsible, certainly appears to be in support of Clark and his actions, there is little guarantee that the composition of the board will remain as present and the winds of change could bring different feelings.

We would judge that there is general consensus that Clark has done a good job in Andover during the three years he has been in charge.

He was handed an assignment to put the town's administrative structure in order and also to address himself to the problems faced by a community with continued growth.

He has done both well, composing an organizational chart, which clearly delineates a chain of command, provides authority to department heads, and ultimately frees the administrator to insure that the town's business is being carried out properly.

As for growth-management, Clark created the department of community development and planning. It was a good effort, one which brought several boards and committees whose concerns are the growth and development of the town under one roof and one administrator, responsible to the manager.

As townspeople are aware, problems in the proper involvement of that department has led to the resignation of the director and the department is now under the leadership of an acting administrator.

The problems and how they came about were somewhat political in nature and unfortunate in the sense that the department has never had a proper chance to work effectively as the unit solely devoted to growth management under the direction of professional guidance.

Hopefully such outside political pressures will pass when a new director is appointed and those within the department will forget that they once had their own fiefdoms, but are now destined to work together for the benefit of the community as a whole.

Clark put the department in place and its effectiveness now must be left to a successor.

As for the school building program, there is a project manager on board and in control of the project from the outset, protecting the town's interests at all times. Clark insisted on the appointment of such an individual to protect the town, knowing full well that even though construction is within the province of the manager according to the charter, there is need for everyday supervision by a professional to insure a proper and lasting job.

In his tenure in Andover, Clark quite adequately displayed excellent administrative ability and combined it with a personality to utilize that talent in the public sector, which is often a difficult feat to perform. While we regret the loss of that talent, we can hardly be critical of his decision which is based on personal achievement and family-oriented concern.

We feel confident that those who are critical of the manager's resignation at this time, would be following a similar course if the opportunity presented itself.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1906

Chester Jefferson Farmer, '07, won a first prize, ten dollars worth of books, for excellence in Chemistry, presented to the second year men of the Lowell Textile School. G. Wilmer Hathorn of North Andover won the second prize, five dollars worth of books.

Surgeon J. Lyman Belknap, who has been spending a short furlough at his home on Central street, returned to his duties today. He has been transferred from the "Brooklyn" to the "Kentucky," the finest battleship of the North Atlantic Squadron, under command of Rear Admiral "Bob" Evans.

Owing the great success of last year's Fourth of July's celebration it has been decided to hold another this year and for this purpose a meeting of all interested will be held in the lower Town hall next Wednesday evening at 7.45. Everyone is invited to be present.

Joseph McCarthy, William McDermitt and David Vannet made a big catch of fish last Sunday, securing 90 in all, weighing about 150 pounds.

The Marland Village baseball team was defeated by the Elm street team by the score of 13 to 3 last Saturday afternoon.

If you are a depositor in the Andover Savings Bank, bring or send your pass book to the bank for verification, during this month. The law requires all Savings Banks in the Commonwealth to call in their passbooks once in three years in order that they may be compared with the bank records.

The new Silver Arrow motor coaches giving service between Lawrence and Boston via Andover, North Reading, Reading, Wakefield, Melrose, Malden and Everett began to run on Monday. On local busses the fare is ten cents, but on express busses stopping and starting at Chestnut street, the fare is twenty cents. The running time from Andover to Everett square is one hour.

Andover Post 8, American Legion, will dedicate its new lot in Spring Grove cemetery Sunday morning. The lot will be accepted for the post by Past Commander Bartlett H. Hayes. The lot is on the hill overlooking the cemetery from the east side which is now being developed and it overlooks the entire cemetery with a beautiful western view.

The town of Andover at one time possessed a steam railroad of its own and interesting to note, evidences of it are still found in various parts of the community. The railroad's promoter was Hobart Clark who in 1832 saw possibilities of increasing the town's business by a branch line from Wilmington to Andover. And now, condemned as a fire menace, the building on Pearson street erected as a repair shop for the Andover and Wilmington railroad, forerunner of the Boston and Maine system, will be demolished.

25 Years Ago — July 1956

If it's a nice day next Friday, the TOWNSMAN office will be closed. That's the day employees of the paper will enjoy their annual outing. If the weather is bad, we'll be open and try again on the following Friday.

The Hugh A. Stubbins associates have been selected to draw preliminary plans for the South school. The Cambridge firm, headed by Mr. Stubbins, was retained by the school committee Monday night, pending approval of a contract by the town council.

Polio inoculations will begin Monday and Tuesday at the Central school and will continue through until the serum supply is gone. The board of health has been notified that less serum than expected will be provided now but more will be available in about two weeks.

The board of public works will ask for $158,000 for Rogers brook reconstruction when a special town meeting is called. That amount is just half the cost of the project but the board intends to ask the state to pay the other half of the bill.

Extensive improvements to the town house have been voted by the selectmen. The entire northeast corner will be altered at a cost of $2800. Suburban Household Enterprises, Incorporated, of Chandler Road was given the contract.

A steadily falling must tariff to dampen the spirit of thousands who lined the parade route Monday to view the parade concluding Andover's four-day observance of the 325th anniversary of its incorporation as a town. The parade began with the many bands, marching units and floats joining in the line of march at the Doherty school parking lot.

Andover's problems of yesteryear seem to be still with us, as a historical fact brought out in an address by Donald Cole, Andover native and history professor at Phillips Exeter Academy, who was the principal speaker at the 325th anniversary banquet Friday night at the Phillips Academy gymnasium. Close to 600 people heard the historian tell of the drug problems of the 1850s, the seeking of a new town hall and new school facilities then, as seems to be the case still today.

The school committee has reinstated the Andover school's customary busing radius, but the necessary $10,000 restoration to the transportation budget will not come from the salary budget, as proposed at last week's heated meeting. Instead, the administration will eke as much of it as possible from any unexpended funds in other expense budget items, then come to October town meeting with a deficit budget for the rest.

A fact finder has been appointed by state authorities to examine the issues in the contract dispute between the town and the police department.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

The Haven will be closed tomorrow, July 3, in celebration of Independence Day.

Monday, July 6, at 2 o'clock, a film strip on the Edaville Railroad will be presented at the center, in conjunction with the forthcoming trip to this celebrated Massachusetts adventure. Whether you are planning to accompany the group to Carver or not, you are invited to see this film.

The next Travelog will be held Monday, July 13, at 2 p.m. and will be a trip to Arizona, our own magic Southwest, with Bob Coombs as our tour guide.

A second bus has been booked to accommodate the large number who have indicated an interest in the Boston Harbor cruise in August, but that one is filling up fast, too, so if you are interested, the date is August 13, a Thursday, and the cost, which includes lunch onboard the boat, will be $11.50. Do get down to The Haven and sign up now.

Do you have your tickets for "A Day in the Park?" It is scheduled for July 27 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Log Cabin in Phillips Academy Bird Sanctuary and will be a day filled with music, dancing, games and good food—and all for only $2.50.

Among things to plan for is a luncheon and theatre trip in September. On Friday, Sept. 11, The Haven is sponsoring a trip to the King's Grant Hotel for luncheon (choice of either roast beef or chicken) and then on to the Beverly North Shore Music Theatre for a performance of the "Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show." Cost for the day is $18. Sign up now. It is not too early.

Home-delivered meals are available to Andover residents who are 60 or older and are unable to prepare their own meals or to travel to the daily lunch program. Meals cost $1, up from the former 75¢ because of increased transportation costs. Call TheHaven--Andover's senior center—at 470-0870 for further information.

The daily hot lunch program has resumed at West Elementary School each weekday at 12 noon. Call The Haven before 10 o'clock for your reservation.

Motorists may now make a left turn on red (LTOR) in Massachusetts from a one-way street into another one-way street, except where prohibited. According to the state Department of Public Works Commissioner, Dean P. Amidon, this new law was recently passed as an amendment to the right turn on red (RTOR) ruling which took effect in January 1980. The LTOR amendment became effective on Sunday, June 21.

Amidon stresses to motorists that the LTOR law follows all the regulations of the RTOR law. Motorists must come to a complete stop before making either turns at a red light.

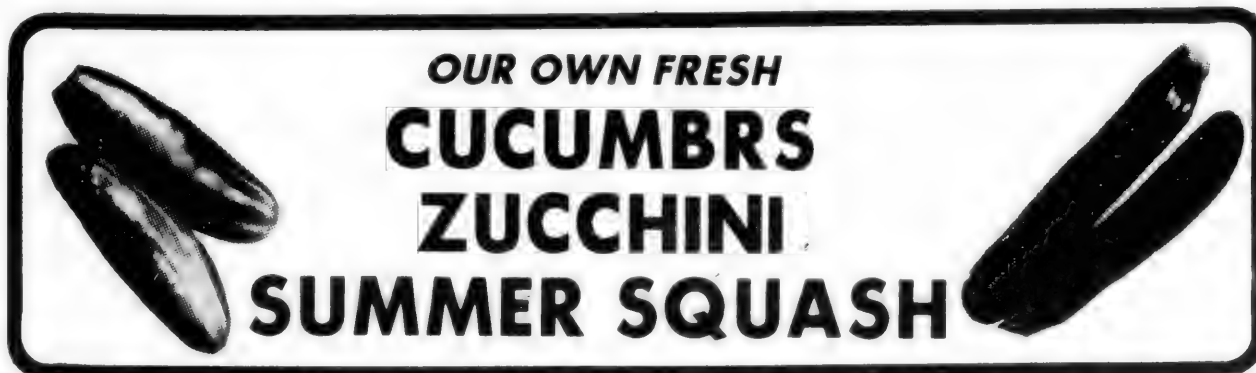

Also, at all times, drivers must yield the right-of-way to pedestrians and other traffic. Any person caught violating these legal requirements will be fined at least $100, as well as an insurance surcharge.

Both of these traffic regulations comply with the national Uniform Vehicle Code. According to Amidon, both LTOR and RTOR have been implemented as safety measures to insure traffic uniformity for Massachusetts and out of state drivers.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Growing from teen to adult with cigarettes

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — A few weeks ago, we first reported on a government study which concluded that the health warnings in cigarette advertising have been hopelessly ineffective. The study was made by the staff of the Federal Trade Commission.

It now turns out that at the same time, bureaucrats at the Department of Health and Human Services were spiking two anti-smoking television commercials. The spots featured teen-age actress Brooke Shields.

An agency spokesman explained that the Shields commercials did not carry an important anti-smoking message. What was the message? That smoking was not the sign of an adult.

Well, we have news for the Department of Health and Human Services: Some cigarette companies have deliberately tried to make the very point that Brooke Shields was contradicting. They have been trying to persuade American teenagers that smoking IS an adult thing to do.

Here's how one secret plan for Viceroy cigarettes suggested going after the youth market: "Present the cigarette as one of the few initiations into the adult world."

Another part of the suggested ad campaign for Viceroy's states: "In your ads create a situation taken from the day-to-day life of the young smoker, but in an elegant manner have this situation touch on the basic symbols of the growing-up, maturity process."

Yet another revealing quote from a Salem cigarette marketing plan aimed at young people says that "through the association of Salem and its brand styles with situational elements that are compatible with the lifestyle of young adults, this important target segment will be attracted to the brand."

The message in these recommended advertising campaigns could be shortened to "Smoking is grown-up." And that's exactly what the Brooke Shields commercials would have said is not true. But the anti-smoking bureaucrats decided against running them.

THE NIXON LEGACY: Every president has tried to draw a curtain of secrecy between the White House and the outside world. Presidents simply don't want their acts and policies to reach the people through the press "filter." What they want known they prefer to communicate directly through tightly controlled mechanisms.

Of all U.S. presidents, none was more suspicious of the press than Richard Nixon. He dabbled in authoritarian schemes for the purification of national thought. He wanted to ensure that the American people were exposed only to the "right" kind of news and ideology. To safeguard them against the "wrong" kind, he promoted secrecy in government.

Nixon kept such a tight muzzle on the news that the official pipelines sprang multiple leaks. His law enforcement agencies failed to find and plug the leaks, so he created his own extra-legal plumbers unit to do the job.

Ronald Reagan is more open and less secretive than Nixon. But Reagan has brought into the government a number of people from the Nixon administration. Some of them — CIA Director William Casey, to name but one — share Nixon's hostility toward the press.

The old Nixon hands are already engaged in tightening the screws on the press. They seek laws that will stop reporters from publishing classified information. Of course, government officials will decide what should be classified — which, history shows, is everything they don't want the public to know.

The former Nixon officials now in the Reagan administration have already tried to stop leaks by tracking down the leaders. Some transgressors have already been identified and will be fired as soon as the evidence against them can be pinned down.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Is the congressional honeymoon with Israel on the rocks? A group of New York congressmen recently asked colleagues to sign a letter urging President Reagan to lift his ban on delivering fighter jets to Israel. But surprisingly, the congressmen could talk only 40 others into signing the letter — barely 10 percent of the legislators.

— When it absolutely, positively has to be there overnight, marijuana growers are using commercial freight delivery companies to distribute their illicit weed. Drug enforcement officials say they can't do anything to stop the pot deliveries, and the freight carriers don't really want to — it would be bad for business.

— The taxpayers provide plenty of perks for congressmen, including their own private police force. The Capitol cop corps now numbers more than 1,200. That means there are more than two Capitol policemen for every member of the House and Senate.

— U.S. intelligence officials are secretly discussing ways to encourage China to help fend off the Russians in Africa. For starters, the United States would like China to supply covert aid to forces fighting the Soviet-backed government of Angola.

Gypsy Update

According to the Mass. Audubon Society, gypsy moth pupae are now beginning to appear. The caterpillars spin some silk to cradle the pupae, then go through their transformation. They'll spend about two weeks as pupae.

The larvae of calosoma beetles feast on the pupae as do white-footed mice, but they have little total effect on dense populations. Soon all the caterpillars will be gone and the trees can grow new leaves.

Save The Whales

Operation Survival of Salem is now making plans for July and August in an effort to help save the whales. These plans include the construction of a 20-foot scale model of a Blue whale for the purpose of showing the general public the need for protecting the many species of great whales now faced with extinction.

Operation Survival will also hold training sessions for first aid for stranded marine mammals. This program, hopefully, will lead to the establishment of a Marine Mammal Rescue Unit, based in Salem, with the ability to respond to strandings within a 40-mile radius of Salem.

Starting July 10 until Aug. 21, an art exhibit will be held every other Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the Essex Street Mall in downtown Salem. These photos and prints will feature endangered wild life from the United States, Canada, South America and the Continent of Africa.

Caterpillar Issue Important

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

The alliterative lead article by Ms. Deacon in the June 25 issue ("Creepy Crawlers Finally Force Foes To Seek Spray") brings to the fore an important issue. Nobody who has seen the depredation of Andover trees could other than agree that the situation is downright bad. It is also clear that all of us would like "to do something." What to do is the issue.

I question seriously whether spraying with Bt as advocated by the Tilton Lane neighbors is a good solution. In the first place, it is the wrong point in the life cycle of the gypsy moth to begin the attack. When the larvae are present, if I may be forgiven the mixed metaphor, the worm has already come out of the barn and is all over the place making us miserable. Secondly, the use of a bacterium does not provide the desired immediate "knock-down effect" which a chemical insecticide produces. (But I am glad to note that the Tilton Lane neighbors are not proposing the use of chemical insecticide which—forgive me—opens an even worse bag of worms.) Thus, we would still face the creepy crawlers for a sufficiently long time to give us the miseries. Finally, the use of bacterium by human intervention does not do more than what nature already does and which only results in a regular cycle of florescence and subsidence of the gypsy moth.

But just as Mrs. Correnti and her Tilton Lane neighbors desire, I too, would like "to do something" first being aware that the best we can hope to do is to control and not to eliminate the problem. I suggest that, perhaps, a better approach would be to attack right now at the moth stage of the cycle by using traps baited with sexual lures and "get them" before they mate and lay their eggs. Of course, we cannot hope to kill all the moths, and we should be on the look-out for egg clusters. These can be removed and destroyed by dropping them into cans containing kerosene. Finally, when the remainder of those egg cases which escape us hatch their larvae next spring we should meet them by banding our trees and coating the tape with grease. I can attest to the inability of the larvae to pass such a barrier.

I know that the effectiveness of individual efforts is diminished by those who are not willing to do their share. But those who do their part will get the most protection and those who do not will suffer the most. I am certain, too, that merely "throwing money" at a problem is never effective.

A Welcome Sight

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

It has happened. A year ago no one would have believed it. The ground-breaking has finally taken place for the school building project.

I was a member of the school building committee throughout high school and must say that in those three years I had almost lost hope of seeing this project started.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the school building committee for all the time and effort they have put into this project. As a town member, I personally appreciate the work these people have done on this thankless job. Many of those on the committee have been there for five years. That is a lot of evenings and weekends away from their families. We do not always realize what goes on behind the scenes of such a project. We may not all agree with their decisions but one thing cannot be denied and that is that these people have worked hard.

Again, it is a relief to hear of the start of the actual building part of this project and lots of love and thanks to those with whom I served and who have served this town so well. Best of luck with the completion of this project. It will be a welcome sight.

Happy Fourth

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

On July 4 each year we celebrate Independence Day in our great country, the United States of America. Let us pause with reverence to remember our forefathers who helped make our great country, the U.S.A., great.

We are a young country, but have come a long way through our forefathers love and dedication to their beloved country, the United States of America—lest we forget. As true Americans, either by birth or choice, let us follow in their footsteps with the same love, dedication and zeal for our great country, the United States of America, to keep it great always. Let us all respect our great heritage with gratitude—also our democratic system of government of the people, by the people and for the people, as we celebrate Independence Day, 206th birthday, in 1981. Wonderful—wonderful.

In conclusion may I say—my country 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing—not complain—but always be grateful.

Happy and meaningful 4th of July—Independence Day 1981—to one and all in Andover, Massachusetts

Andover Blue Bats Explode

By Howard Larrabee

Andover Blue regrouped after its opening day loss to Andover Gold (5-4) and banged out three wins, no losses in two weeks of action in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League. After starting slow with the opening loss to Gold and two tie games (Prospect Hill 7-7 and South Lawrence West 6-6, called due to darkness) Blue rapped North Lawrence 10-4, South Lawrence east 11-1, and Andover Gold 11-0. Both tie games will be replayed from the start as league rules stipulate.

Andover Blue 7

Prospect Hill 7

David LaPorte stroked a two out, two run single to cap a four run sixth inning which brought Andover Blue from a 7-3 deficit as darkness closed in at Andover High School on June 10. After leading 3-0 through four innings on a two-run single by John Geiger and two Prospect Hill errors, Blue surrendered five runs in the fifth and two runs in the sixth to trail 7-3. In the bottom of the sixth, Brett Larrabee walked and Tom Powers reached on an error. Catcher Bob Rikeman singled sharply to right scoring Larrabee. After Tom Lutz had popped out, Rob Wilson grounded to second scoring Powers. Kurt Smith walked putting runners at first and third. Prospect Hill manager Joe D'urso chose to walk Mike Gibson intentionally which put the tying run in scoring position. LaPorte responded with his clutch line single to right to tie the game. After the final out was made, umpires called the game due to darkness requiring the entire game to be replayed.

Andover Blue 6

South Lawrence West 6

Blue started fast and built a 6-0 lead through three innings only to have West get three in the fourth and three in the fifth just as darkness forced a halt to the June 12 game. Blue rapped four hits in the first inning but scored just once as runners were cut down at third and at home. David LaPorte singled home Mike Gibson for the lone run after Gibson had doubled off the centerfield fence, narrowly missing a home run. Blue got five in the third on five hits. Singles by Gibson, LaPorte and John Geiger loaded the bases. Tom Powers executed a perfect suicide squeeze. Bob Rikeman singled for two more runs, and Tom Lutz singled for another. The final Blue run scored on an error on a ball hit by Mike Surette.

In the fourth, starter Kurt Smith tired and gave up three runs on three hits. After giving up a single and a walk to open the fifth, Geiger came on to be greeted by two singles, a fielders' choice, and an error which tied the game. Once again, the game was called for darkness requiring it to be replayed at a later date.

Andover Blue 10

North Lawrence 4

Blue notched its first win when Mike Gibson fired 3 1/3 innings of one hit, nor run relief pitching and Blue hitters rapped out 12 hits overall and scored eight runs in the last three innings in blasting North Lawrence at Stadium 2 on June 16. Kurt Smith and David LaPorte had three hits each. Bob Rikeman and Brett Larrabee two each to lead the attack.

After trailing 2-0, Blue tied the game in the third when Larrabee singled but was erased on a double play grounder. However, Smith singled and stole second. After Rob Wilson reached on an error moving Smith to third, Wilson stole second. Gibson plated both with a single to center.

Starter Tom Powers encountered trouble immediately in the top of the fourth, two walks and a single loaded the bases. After getting two clutch outs, successive singles put North Lawrence ahead 4-2. Gibson came in to get the final out and shut the door the rest of the way.

Blue regained the lead in the fifth on an error, single by Smith, two stolen bases, and a two run single by LaPorte who knocked in his sixth and seventh runs in four games. LaPorte stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch to give Blue the lead for good. Blue continued to widen the lead in the sixth when Rikeman tripled and scored on Larrabee's single to make it 6-4. Blue iced the game with four in the seventh on singles by LaPorte and Powers, a hit batsman, sacrifice fly by Larrabee, and doubles by Tom Lutz and Smith.

Gibson closed with ease, gaining his first victory, walking two, striking out one, and giving up just one hit.

Andover Blue 11

South Lawrence East 1

Joh Geiger fired a four-hitter, striking out a season high 16 batters in going the distance to best South Lawrence East at Andover High School on June 17. Geiger went five innings before giving up a hit, and with the exception of four walks, he retired the first 11 East hitters on strikes.

Mike Gibson led the hit parade with 3 hits and 3 RBIs. Rob Wilson, Kurt Smith and Tom Lutz had two hits each. Geiger also blasted a three-run homer to help his own cause.

Things started fast for Blue who jumped to a 6-0 lead in the second inning, and it all took place with two outs and none on. Bob Rikeman and Brett Larrabee walked. Lutz then blasted a long fly to deep centerfield which just eluded the grasp of outfielder John Gagnon for a three-run homer. Wilson singled and stole second before Smith singled him in. Gibson then split the gap in left center for a two-run homer and a comfortable 6-0 lead.

Blue closed out the scoring in the fourth with five more runs. Lutz singled, Wilson singled, and Smith hit into a fielders' choice which caught Lutz at home. Gibson then singled home Wilson. Smith scored on a wild pitch on a walk to LaPorte, and Geiger ripped a blast to leftfield that was so deep that any mortal man could have circled the bases twice.

Geiger gave up his only run in the sixth on three singles, but otherwise was in complete command. This win upped Blue's record to 2-1.

Andover Blue 11

Andover Gold 0

On June 23, Blue avenged its earlier defeat by Gold (now 6-1 in league play) by blasting 14 hits, including two doubles and two triples and backed the one-hit pitching of John Geiger with solid defense in besting Gold at Andover High School. Once

Tigers Face Giants For Town Title

By Dan Grams

For the fifth consecutive year the defending Andover Little League town titlist Tigers will appear in post season play. The Tigers opponents for the upcoming town playoffs will be the National League champion Giants.

The Giants, under first year coach Gary Colsia, defeated the second half champion Cardinals and first half co-champion Dodgers to earn the right to take on the Tigers for the championship for the town of Andover which is slated to take place July 1, 2, and if needed, July 6.

This year's town playoffs mark an end to a Giant post-season appearance drought, dating back to the mid-70s when guided by the late Leo Tortora, the Giants captured the town championship. This year also marked the first time that a Cardinal club has been shut out of a playoffs for more than two years, dating back for quite some time.

The Tigers continued their dominance of the American League by devouring their west side opponents. They captured the first and second half championships with ease, wrapping the championship up with more than a week left to go in the regular season.

The Giants, meanwhile, faced stiffer competition as they swept a tough four-game week against the top National League teams to get where they are.

Earl Abdoo (Tigers) and Chris Colsia (Giants) are the probable pitchers for Wednesday's playoff opener.

American League

Tigers 7 - Orioles 0

Dave Rourke pitched a four hitter while striking out three and not walking a single batter.

The Tigers played tough throughout the game with Dave Rourke, Ray Rourke, Dave Vickers and Keith Dauber standing out defensively. At bat Dave Rourke, John Mossa and Jamie Clarke each contributed with a pair of hits.

Dave Rourke was the star of the game as, besides pitching the four-hit shutout, he also helped his own cause at the plate by collecting two hits and an RBI.

Tigers 10 - Red Sox 8

The Tigers proved their 10- and 11-year olds could play just as effectively as their twelve by playing all of their 10-year-olds the whole game and letting their 12s play but three innings.

Ten-year-olds Ian O'Neal and Mike Hein proved to be effective on the mound by allowing just two runs between the two.

The Tiger hitting attack came from Dave Rourke, Earl Abdoo, Jamie Clarke and Keith Dauber, all punching out a pair

Cardinals Take Town Title

The Cardinals became town Minor League champs by defeating the American League Patriots in a two out of three game series. It was a good two games with the first one being a pitchers' duel, 6 to 5, and the lead going back and forth between the two teams. Going into the last inning of the first game, the Cards were down by one with runners on first and third and two outs. Steven Gack was put in to pinchhit and he came through, as he has many times, and tied the game, then Kevin Law came up and drove home the winning run.

The Patriots had a great pitching effort by T. Sheehan and also by catcher Jowett. Two outstanding catches were made by centerfielder amy Ponti of the Cardinals that ended the innings leaving runners on base. Her play has been outstanding all season long.

Kurt Seifert and Aleke Msumba have teamed up all year and have pitched the Cardinals to the championship. In the second game they teamed up again to give the Cardinals a 16-6 victory. Msumba was also outstanding at shortstop, as was Steve Durso who has been outstanding at first base all year and led the Cardinals in batting averages this season. The Cardinals finished up the season with only one loss including the playoffs.

of singles. Ray Rourke also added a safety and scored three of the team's 10 runs.

Stars of the game went to the Tigers 10 year olds who played well all around, especially on the mound. Dave Vickers was also a defensive standout by playing sound ball at third base.

Yankees 6 - Twins 2

Tom Tormey pitched three innings of shutout ball to pick up the win while Pat Breen pitched the last three, allowing just one earned run to pick up the save.

The Yankees got what proved to be the winning runs in the third when Tim Smith walked. Paul Davies doubled and were pushed up a base by Tom Tormey's sacrifice fly. Another walk, a stolen base and a doubly by Josh Malitsky scored two more runs including the game winning one.

Stars of the game went to Tormey and Malitsky. Besides pitching three shutout innings, he was also a standout at third base by making several diving stops. Malitsky led the team's offensive attack by collecting three hits, two RBIs and a double.

Babe Ruth

again Geiger proved to be virtually unhittable. He gave up just one hit, a bunt single to losing pitcher Bill Vickers in the first inning, but thereafter nothing close to a hit was allowed by Geiger, who struck out nine and walked six.

Gold gave every indication that it would be a long evening for Geiger by loading the bases with none out in top of the first. Two walks to Mark Grams and Steve Dougal and the bunt single by Vickers put Geiger in deep trouble; however, he promptly struck out the next three Gold hitters to end the inning.

Blue responded with two runs in their half of the first when Rob Wilson singled over Dougal's head at third as Tom Powers pushed a bunt single past the mound.

Awarded Campership

Camp Evergreen, Andover, is pleased to announce that Andy Brown, age 6, of Stinson Road, Andover, is the winner of a recent contest to guess the number of green and white jelly beans in a container. The contest was held during the "Andover Sidewalk Bazaar" on June 27 and 28. Five hundred youngsters and adults submitted guesses at the fair and Andy was right on the button (bean) with his guess of 1,111 jelly beans.

Andy has won two weeks at the Andover Day Camp. Andy is one of four children in the Brown household.

Camp Evergreen, for boys and girls ages 5-15, opened its 18th summer season on Monday, June 29. A new program for mini-campers ages 3½ to 5 for half days has been introduced for this summer for the first time and is still enrolling.

Bill McDade

On Lacrosse Team At Plymouth

Bill McDade of Andover was a member of the 1981 Plymouth State College lacrosse team.

The 18-year-old McDade is a freshman reserve goalie for the Panthers, who finished the season with a 2-9 record.

"Bill is our backup goalie," said PSC coach Dave Webster. "He'll probably see more action as a sophomore."

"We had some good talent on the team, but we've got to improve our defense and our concentration for next year," said Webster. "I think we've held a lead over every team we've played this season, but haven't much to show for it."

Plymouth State defeated a talented University of Vermont (12-11) and Castleton State (17-3) this season, but lost to such teams as Albany State University, Norwich University, Westfield State, Boston State, and Bowdoin.

McDade is a 1980 graduate of Andover High School where he competed on the track, cross country and wrestling teams. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. McDade of Andover, and is a freshman environmental biology major at Plymouth State College.

McKenna Elected President

Harry J. McKenna, 27 Bancroft Road, Andover, was elected president of the Massachusetts Shorthand Reporters Association by its members at their annual meeting recently at the Sheraton Boston.

McKenna was educated in the Lawrence school system. Graduated from Stenotype Institute of Boston in 1960, under federal contract, he reported hearings before the National Labor Relations Board, Tax Court and Interstate Commerce Commission throughout New England. In 1962 he joined the firm of Philip H. and Lawrence W. Burt as a full associate. In 1966 he established McKenna Reporting Associates, a general court reporting business serving the Supreme Judicial Court, Probate Court, American Arbitration Association, and numerous law firms throughout the Commonwealth. Also in 1966, McKenna founded Touch Shorthand Academy, a school for the education and training of students in all secretarial fields and as Hearing Stenographers and Court and Conference Reporters. In 1973 he sold Touch Shorthand Academy, which at that time had the largest student enrollment and faculty of any court reporting school in New England.

In 1972, McKenna accepted an appointment by the Justices of the Superior Court as an official court reporter, and is presently on assignment at Suffolk County Superior Court.

He had previously been elected to his association's board of directors, four years; vice-president one year; and served as chairman of the legislative committee for four years. He is accredited by the National Shorthand Reporters Association as a Registered Professional Reporter and, having passed the Superior Court Reporters' Examination, holds the classification of Certified Shorthand Reporter. He is presently the elected vice-chairman of the Superior Court Reporters Association, a member of the Advisory

Catalano Completes Training

Pvt. John S. Catalano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian F. Catalano, 29 Sutherland St., Andover, recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, GA.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Mervyn M. Manning, Jr., 37 Porter Road, Andover, has been named a vice president in FNB Financial Company, a subsidiary of First National Boston Corporation (FNBC). The subsidiary offers factoring and accounts receivable financing.

Manning began his career with FNBC as a loan examiner with The First National Bank of Boston, FNBC's principal subsidiary. His most recent position was assistant vice president.

A graduate of Burdett College, Manning also participated in Dartmouth College's Graduate School of Credit and Financial Management. He is a member of the National and New England Associations of Credit Executives.

He and his wife, the former Elizabeth Turner George of Haverhill, have a son and two daughters.

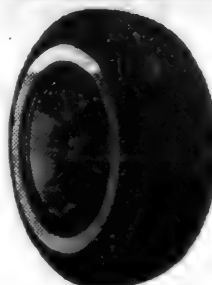

Mosquito Prevention

Researchers suggest these ways to keep mosquitoes from breeding: remove standing water around the yard and drain or fill any areas of the yard where water collects, regularly clean decorative landscape items such as fountains, bird baths and pools, and drain standing water in saucers under potted plants.

Employee Receives U.S. Patent

Rudolf P. Hecken, 21 Rose Glen Drive, Andover, was recently named inventor and was awarded a U.S. Patent for an electronic test instrument for analyzing distortion in microwave circuits. This invention helped make possible the design of a new single sideband radio system for long distance telephone service. The new system, now in production at the Western Electric Company in North Andover, has a capacity of 6,000 simultaneous calls per radio channel, 2½ times that of previous radio systems.

This will be Hecken's second patent award and he currently has another pending.

Hecken joined the Bell System in 1968 and is currently department head in the exploratory radio systems department. He received his Master's and Ph.D. degree in Electronic Engineering from the Technische Hochschule/Technical University, Aachen, West Germany.

Hecken resides in Andover with his wife and their three children.

Unfortunately, blood donors decrease drastically because it is vacation time.

In an effort to help prevent a serious blood shortage throughout the Fourth of July, all eligible blood donors are urged to take an hour to help ensure a safe blood supply for the imminent holiday emergencies and the constant patient needs.

Blood may be donated at the Red Cross Blood Center, on the grounds of the Bon Secours Hospital on Monday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1:30 to 9 p.m. There will be a special opening on Saturday, July 4, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

To help alleviate a shortage throughout the fourth, the employees of the Bon Secours Hospital will be sponsoring a blood drive at the Methuen center through July 10.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 65, weighing at least 110 lbs. and feeling well is eligible to donate blood.

Hawk Missile 25-Years-Old

Twenty-five years ago on June 22, a team of U.S. Army and Raytheon technical people prepared a Hawk missile for a flight test at White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico.

In many ways, this can be considered the beginning of the Hawk program, for in this first attempt at a guided flight, the missile unerringly made its way to a target flying at an altitude of approximately 11,000 feet and blasted it from the sky.

There are, of course, a number of earlier efforts in Raytheon's missile work that might be singled out as the Hawk starting point:

—The successful unsolicited proposal submitted by Raytheon to the Army in 1953 for a complete missile system.

—The Army studies of the early 1950s done by Raytheon on radar-guided missiles.

—Or the even earlier work done in the 1940s that culminated in 1950 in the first intercept of an airborne target by a surface launched guided missile, using a Lark missile with a Raytheon guidance system.

But to the Hawk team, because of all the work they put into the first guided flight of Hawk on June 22, 1956, the direct hit of a QF-80 drone was the real birth of it all. And today, after more than $6 billion sales to Raytheon for Hawk work since the beginning of the program, there is still a lot of life in the system that has often been described as the mainstay of Army air defense.

Known today as Improved Hawk, the air defense system is widely deployed by the U.S. Army, U.S. Marine Corps, and the defense forces of 19 friendly foreign nations. Among programs with allied nations was the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) program for the European production of Basic Hawk system, which started in 1958.

Later, in 1974, the NATO program for Improved Hawk began with six European nations—Denmark, France, Greece, Italy, The Netherlands and West Germany—participating. In 1979 Belgium joined the program. Industries from these countries, under the direction of Raytheon, produced the Improved Hawk system in Europe. Japanese industrial companies under license to Raytheon Company have also produced the system for their government.

Today, the Improved Hawk system is going through a series of product improvements that began with an award for research and development in January 1975.

Additional product improvements have also begun since that time. The product improvements will add to the systems capabilities in meeting the airborne threat to the free world. Sales of Improved Hawk systems continue to add to the Hawk family of nations with recent announcements of foreign military sales programs to Egypt, Singapore and Taiwan.

enforcement officer of the county and has administrative control and responsibility over three facilities: the Salem and Lawrence jails and Houses of Correction, and the Correctional Alternatives Center in Lawrence. Many inmates in Massachusetts correctional institutions have passed through Reardon's administration and some are at M.C.I. Norfolk.

During the interview, which was taped in the prison studio for later broadcast from local radio stations, Reardon addressed several subjects, including facilities, staffing, overcrowding, alternatives in corrections, and particularly, his victim restitution program.

cial to this area. It would not be anything like the multi-family housing zone presented to the annual town meeting," Viehmann emphasized.

(A proposed multiple-family housing by-law developed by the Planning Board was defeated by 1981 annual town meeting.)

Steering committee members hope a special town meeting will be called this fall so they can present their proposal; one group of townspeople may call a meeting to consider spraying the town for gypsy moth caterpillars next year.

If no meeting is called, however, the committee is not yet sure whether they will petition for one, or wait for the annual meeting next spring, project coordinator "Bert" Shupe indicated.

The plans met with a "positive response" from local officials Tuesday, Shupe said. "Town boards are excited about the concept," she explained. "There is really a tremendous need for such a center in Andover."

If town meeting approves the zone change in the fall, MacIntosh Associates could begin marketing the living units in the spring of 1982, Murtha said, and work could begin on the site by late fall 1982. He estimated that construction on the project would take 18 months to complete.

The steering committee and architects plan to use the summer months to further refine the plans, and come up with cost estimates. Public response to the preliminary plans may lead to changes, Brandt said: "We are listening very carefully."

The architects' plans call for developing approximately seven acres of the 22-acre parcel: the remaining 15 acres are wetlands, with a large wooded area at the back of the lot and ponds near the middle ufactures, such as rubber running tracks like the one at the high school, rubber hoses and brake linings. Eastern Products recycles 3,000 to 4,000 tons of tires a year.

In addition, Feinberg said he plans to lease some warehouse space to other companies.

The selectmen's preliminary approval of Feinberg's application clears the way for him to apply to the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (MIFA) for a low-interest industrial revenue bond. His application was approved last week by Andover's Industrial Development Finance Authority (IDFA).

Dorothy Sherrard of the IDFA and Industrial Development Commission pointed out that Feinberg's request is on a much smaller scale than the industrial revenue financing approved for larger industries in Andover in recent years.

After the selectmen voted unanimously to approve Feinberg's preliminary application (Selectman Edward Harris was absent), Chairman Norma Gammon recommended that the businessman check with the Andover Historical Commission before making further plans to renovate the Ballardvale mill.

Gammon warned that the old mill could be part of Ballardvale's federally-protected historic district — which could mean special restrictions on any changes that Feinberg may make to the building of the lot.

There will be one access roadway from Reservation Road. It will lead to a group of 38 cluster units, built around three cul-de-sacs. About half of the units will have one bedroom, Brandt said, and the rest will have two bedrooms. Each cluster unit will have a porch or patio and a garage.

The main part of the development will be a two-story building housing about 190 "congregate units." There will be a circular driveway at the main entrance, creating a courtyard. A lobby and offices will be located on the first floor.

The one-bedroom, two-bedroom and efficiency units in the congregate section will be built off a long central corridor. At the core will be a 45,000 square-foot community center: on its second floor will be a health clinic, a spa, an arts and crafts area, a greenhouse, a barber shop and beauty shop. A dining room will open out onto a terrace overlooking a pond, where outdoor activities may be held.

Located near the center will be 64 special units for residents who need nursing attention: 32 "nursing care" units on the first floor, including nursing stations; and 32 "assisted living" units on the second floor, with access to the nursing stations below. Brandt said the plans allow space over the world, offering audiences their own brand of what Leary calls "contemporary rock" music.

Leary

"Their music reaches out to all age groups," he explains. "Their goal is to make the people in the audience feel good about themselves — it's very upbeat. They try to bridge communication gaps between different cultures."

And it is also the organization's goal to offer a unique learning experience to its cast members, he adds. During a five-week training period in Tucson, where Leary will fly this weekend, he will learn more than musical production numbers.

"I'll also have a chance to learn about promotions, contracts, finding host families for performers to live with, and do those kinds of things as well as perform," he says. "When I first saw them at Merrimack, I really liked it, and I thought it was something I'd like to do — I thought it was just performing. But the more and more I learned about it, the more it appealed to me."

Leary doesn't know where the group will take him when he completes his training in Tucson. But he says that as the group travels from town to town, cast members will stay with host families in the community, rather than hotels, providing yet another kind of learning experience.

Music has been a big part of Leary's life for some time now: in school, he was part of the A Capella Choir, the Barbershop Singers, and the Madrigal Singers. And Leary was very active in the music program at Saint Augustine's Church, where he helped run the youth group as well.

When his year with "Up With People" is up, Leary plans to attend the University of Lowell, probably as a business major. "But if I really enjoy it this year," he adds, "I may be a music major, or a minor, or do something with music in some way."

for an additional 64 such units to be added in the future.

The special units were included, the architect said, to give residents "the secure feeling that they can go on living here for the rest of their lives."

The entire center will be free of architectural barriers to the handicapped.

The center will include underground parking for 114 cars, as well as visitor parking above ground. The grounds will be landscaped and building exteriors will be designed to "fit in well with the community," Brandt added. "We want to be good neighbors."

In addition to the retirement living units, the center will include several special programs, according to the steering committee. There will be a hospice, which at first will consist of offices for out-patient consultations, Shupe said. Living quarters may be added in the future.

A family resource center will deal with people of all ages and offer "support for the coping family," Viehmann said. A day care center will be established in a separate building to serve working parents; Viehmann said residents of the retirement center could participate in the day care.

And the committee hopes that students from local universities could gain experience in geriatrics and child care at the center through a cooperative program with higher education institutions.

Air Force
Training

Airman 1st Class Anthony R. DuBose, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Layne DuBose of 26 Timothy Drive, Andover, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, TX.

During the six weeks at Lackland, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received credits towards an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the tactical air command and control field at Eglin Air Force base, Fla.

DuBose is a 1979 graduate of Northeastern University, Boston.

Sweet Artichokes

Artichokes have powerful sweetening effect, but they don't sweeten like sugar. Artichokes alter the chemical environment of the tongue—not the substance to be sweetened.

SINGLE-FAMILY HERE TO STAY

Have you gotten the impression that the detached single-family home is being priced out of the market and that it's only a matter of time before most people will be living in apartments and condos? Not by a long shot!

If you look at the figures for recent years you'll see that the future for the single family house is quite healthy. In 1974, one of the worst years in this country's housing industry, over 66% of new housing starts (887,400) were single family homes.

You can see that despite land costs, construction costs, mortgage costs and real estate taxes, the single family home did very well. Yes, it is a luxury. But it's a luxury that many Americans are willing to sacrifice other luxuries in order to afford. If they bought in one of the worst years in real estate sales history — the year when the Dow Jones sunk to the lowest point in ten years, when unemployment reached a new high along with interest rates and the cost of living, it's a safe bet that the single family home is here to stay... probably stronger than ever.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

"A Very Special Home"

This 10 room contemporary home is privately situated on over 2 acres of beautifully treed land, and is highlighted by an all-weather tennis court!

It features a large blue stone foyer, sunken fireplaced living room, large dining area with excellent built-in storage space, fireplaced family room that opens to both the kitchen and a large deck. The upper level has 3 bedroom and 2 baths including the master bedroom which has a balcony. The lower level has 3 more rooms including a library and greenhouse — an ideal arrangement for an office or possible in-law apartment.

Central air conditioning - 3 car garage - screened-in porch, sundeck and patio - lots of built-in features and more extras than you could imagine all combine to make this A Very Special Home!

This photograph, taken over 50 years ago, depicts this beautiful old house in its elegant surroundings. Built in 1796 on land passed from father to son since 1663, the gracious Georgian Colonial contains twelve spacious rooms, many with fireplaces, raised paneling, antique brasses and detailed mouldings. The original part of the house has seen little alterations and retains all of its beauty. Adjacent to the house on the two acres are the carriage shed, main barn and granary. The property is in a choice location in historic Andover.

received a special permit application from Cohen Properties.

Tenants of the complex have been worried by rumors of condo conversion at Washington Park for more than a year. Approximately 75 percent of the tenants are elderly, who feared they would be forced to find new apartments at a time when rental units are scarce in this area.

Andover Atty. Gerald Lewis, representing a group of Washington Park tenants, said he believes there are "legal avenues" open to the tenants that could block the conversion.

Resident Philip Danforth, spokesman for the tenants group, said Wednesday that he learned of plans to convert the building by checking with the Registry of Deeds. Danforth said tenants had not been notified of the change of ownership, nor of plans to convert the units into condominiums.

Washington Park is the second Andover apartment complex to be converted into condominiums. The Andover Gardens apartments at 12 Crescent Drive were converted last summer by the apartment owners, Andover Gardens Investors Trust of Boston. There are 138 units in that complex, which originally sold for $33,500 to $47,500.

Irvine Trustee At Pike

Horace H. Irvine of North Andover has been appointed to the board of trustees of The Pike School for a three-year term. Trustee Chairman Mrs. Marshall L. Field announced the new appointment at the May annual meeting and welcomed Irvine to the board. Irvine will replace Trustee Theodore R. Sizer, headmaster of Phillips Acad my, who is leaving the area to complete his newest venture—a study of high schools in America.

Irvine was raised in St. Paul, Minn. and graduated from St. Paul's School in Concord, N.H., Princeton University, and Harvard Business School. He is currently chairman of HADCO, a printed circuits company based in Derry and Salem, N.H., and Oswego, N.Y.

Active in community affairs, he is also president of The National Opera Institute in New York, an organization which, with vice-president Beverly Sills, sponsors and encourages young opera singers and composers throughout the country.

Irvine is the father of eight children, two of whom are Pike students — Kate who graduates this June, and Molly who is entering third grade.

Receive Certificates

The Preparatory School of the New England Conservatory Extension Division has announced that Nikolai and Carlos Gonzales have received Certificate Awards for completion in the Prep School's Certificate Program at ceremonies held on Saturday, June 6.

The sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Gonzales of Haverhill Street, Andover, Nikolai is a Level I piano student of Jean Stackhouse and Carlos is a Level II piano student of Samuel Adams.

Summer Cookouts Need Potato Salad, And That's When You Need Us!

...Because the one thing you DON'T need is all the peeling and cooking and preparing, and, costwise it's easier, too, to come to us!

Our delicious, homemade potato salad goes every whichway all summer long...to big cookouts, and little cookouts, family cookouts, and to weddings and functions of all kinds...AND...we won't get grouchy if we hear you've added your own special touches to our own Towne Deli Potato Salad!

Our famous Towne Deli Cole Slaw will finish the salad part of your bar-b-que, perfectly...it's shredded, (never chopped) and blended with our own delicious, delicate dressing. Stop by our Deli counter and take some home...you'll love it.

If you're planning a party and you'd like us to do the 'WHOLE THING,' (a smart idea!) we'll prepare beautiful, bountiful, fresh 'n delicious Towne Deli PARTY PLATTERS...call and we'll help you plan.

And here's one more good idea! Come in for a fabulous 'whatever your heart desires,' Towne Deli breakfast, some morning soon, and you'll understand why we say...“we don't make all the friends we do serving just Deli, alone!

We will be closed July 4th.
